

Overview

The ABR is currently developing a new Exam Center, centrally located in Chicago, Illinois. The 30,372-square-foot center, which will seat approximately 560 examinees, will open in spring 2012. The Center is located at 5440 N. Cumberland Avenue, Suite 200, approximately 4-½ miles from O’Hare Airport and accessible from the Chicago Transit Authority’s Blue Line.

The ABR is dedicated to providing high-quality images for its examinations—images that emulate as closely as possible those viewed in practice. Because it is becoming more difficult for commercial testing centers and society meetings to accommodate ABR diplomate numbers and meet the technical requirements of our examinations, beginning in 2012, the ABR’s Diagnostic Radiology and Subspecialty MOC examinations will be offered twice yearly at the new Chicago Exam Center. The examinations will take place on one day, with two sessions offered during the day. Beginning in October 2013, the MOC exams also will be administered at the ABR’s Exam Center in Tucson, Arizona, on the same twice-yearly schedule.
